NORTHPORT CORRESPONDENCE

(By Herald Reporter)

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson of the south side spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Crouch in Angola.

Mrs. Alfred Smith and daughter, of Denver, are visiting here with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Young.

Miss Clara Payne of this place went to Alliance Saturday, where she will spend the summer with her aunt.

The Northport Bridge

F. R. Lindberg, chairman of the board of county commissioners of this county, met with the vice president of the Union Pacific railroad, in regard to the matter of securing Sherman Hill gravel to cover the approach to the new state aid bridge. However, after discussing the matter with F. R. Lindberg the railroad representative conceded the point, and agreed to furnish the gravel to cover the road from the U. P. crossing at Northport to the first span of the concrete bridge, delivered free at the Northport crossing. It is considered that the price of the Sherman Hill gravel delivered at Northport is $3.20 a ton with a loading charge of ten cents per ton at the hill. They offered to cut this price to $1.75 per ton if it is decided to cover the remainder of the bridge now, and on this basis it is estimated that it would cost $1,500 to cover this bridge and the south side of the bridge with the same material. If the state is willing to stand one-half of the expense the commissioners will probably consider the advisability of having the entire work done. It is hoped that it could be done at this time. This would make an ideal finish for the bridge.

Fine Pictures of Fine Stock

The Bee Engraving Department Can Make Them

A successful breeder increases his patronage by going after business instead of waiting for it, and knows where to go when he wants good printing work done. We want to make engravings suitable for the printer to use on your work. Send us your photograph and we will tell you the amount it will cost to produce the cut.

We have a first class photography department and could arrange to have a photographer come to your place and make your pictures of animals if you have sufficient work to justify the expense. For further information write us.

MR. STOCKMAN

It is undoubtedly true that a thorough knowledge of the various laws governing the particular instances wherein a claim for damages may arise is essential to the proper handling of a claim for damages, yet there is another field of knowledge just as important.

This second field is a knowledge of the manner and methods employed in handling stock from the time it is put in the pens at the shipping point until it reaches the purchaser at the Stock Yards, together with a knowledge of the stock growing industry and of stock itself.

Necessarily then, in order to competently handle stock claims there must be an association of individuals who are thoroughly familiar with all such conditions—who give time to the consideration and study of such.

We are so organized that we can handle your claims on a commission basis—no recovery, no pay.

We will appreciate your business and give it the careful and prompt consideration to which it is entitled.

Very truly yours,
